

Mobilizing Many to Save HIV Impacted Children & Families

For 25 years, the Children's AIDS Fund International has worked tirelessly for children living with and dying from the ravages of HIV/AIDS. CAFI works around the world with government, faith, business, and community leaders to save vulnerable children and their families impacted by HIV/AIDS.

Thank you for awakening our consciences at a time when many were silent in the face of the spread of a disease that has left millions of children orphaned and vulnerable.

CAFI excels where others fail because you not only invest resources in treatment and care, but also because you promote and support proven strategies and sound policies to prevent HIV transmission that make real difference in the lives of children. Thank you for awakening our consciences at a time when many were silent in the face of the spread of a disease that has left millions of children orphaned and vulnerable. May you enjoy many more years of success saving lives across the globe.
